To the Daily Gazetteer.

SIR,

IS it is become a Cuſtom for News Papers to give Characters of the Deceaſed, I could wiſh the ſeveral Authors, who take that Liberty, would be ſo fair and candid to lay aſide Partiality, and not leſſen the Value of the Dead for the Sake of Party, as I am afraid the Author of the Evening Poſt of Tueſday laſt, has done in relation to the Character of the late Reverend Sir Robert Cocks, Miniſter of Woodſtock, Blaiden, and Rollright, in the County of Oxford, many Years Chancellor of the Dioceſe, Chaplain to the firſt Regiment of Guards, and one of his Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace for the ſame County: In all which honourable Stations he acquitted himſelf with the greateſt Reputation. He was a good Scholar, had a good deal of ready Wit, and knew how to apply it, which made him an excellent Companion. In his Time, viz. before Affliction for the Loſs of his Lady and ſeveral of his Children, had impaired his Health, he was a moſt polite, ſprightly Man, and an Elegant Preacher, and to the laſt had more Vivacity and Quickneſs in all his Faculties than any Man of his Age, being near Fourſcore; and then even the very time of his Death, was a valuable Man to the Community in general, being conſtantly employ'd in the Service of God, the Church, the King, and his Country; the former, by ſhewing the Beauties of a Chriſtian Life, not only by eloquent Remonſtrances from the Pulpit, but by an exemplary Life; the latter in his Adminiſtration of Juſtice, in which he gave general Satisfaction. He was not ſo formally Orthodox as ſome of his Brethren, but was more eſſentially ſo, than moſt of them; for his Charity was more extenſive than any Man's of his Fortune. Giving Alms to the Poor, redreſſing the Injured, relieving the Diſtreſſed, reconciling Differences, were his general Entertainment and great Delight; ſerving his Friend was a high Gratification, an Opportunity of doing that, raiſed his Spirits; and one Truth more muſt be added, to complete the Character of this worthy Man, which was, his peculiar Happineſs of Temper in forgiving Injuries; the Sun could not let the Sun go down on his Wrath; and his Memory will be more than ſomewhat Valuable to the Opinion of all Men of Piety, Learning, Wit, and Judgment, which may not include the Author of the London Evening Poſt, and that may be ſomewhat of Excuſe for his Obſervation on the Memory of the Reverend Sir Robert Cocks.

Pleaſe to give this Room in your very next Paper, and you will generally oblige your Readers, and in a particular Manner,

Dec. 22, 1735-6. Your humble Servant,

C. J.

Yeſterday a Dutch Mail brought theſe Advices.

Warſaw, Feb. 4. O. S.

'Tis ſuppoſed, that Count Sarlo's Deſign in coming hither from Koningsberg, furniſhed as he was with Paſſport from the King and M. de Keyſerling, was purely to make his own Submiſſion; for he has not only left his Counteſs behind, but, as ſoon as he arriv'd, which was the 26th ult. he made a Viſit to the Grand Marſhal of the Crown, at whoſe Houſe he ſpent the Evening; and adviſing with him what Courſe to take, one of the firſt Queſtions which the Count asked him, was, What Reception was to be given to the Confederates at Koningsberg? The Marſhal anſwered him, That the Confederacy of Dzikovia having been made null and void by the States of the Kingdom, the States, by Conſequence, would never enter into a Treaty with ſuch Body; but that if they came, Man by Man, and make their Submiſſion to the King, every one for himſelf ſingly, they would be received with open Arms; and that he, Count Tarlo, might depend upon a moſt gracious Reception. Next Day the Count went to pay a Viſit to the Pope's Nuncio; but he pretended to be buſy in diſpatching Letters of Importance, and therefore did not ſee him. Some Lords who ſaw him that Day, obſerving, that he had not the White Eagle on, told him, he ought either to wear it, or elſe ſend it back to the King; therefore the Day following he put it on, and went to Court with the Great Treaſurer of Lithuania, when each had a ſeparate Audience of their Majeſties, and was very graciouſly received. The ſame being alſo the Czarina's Birth-day, the Queen invited them to ſtay at Court; and at Night there was a Ball, in which her Majeſty (who next Morning was ſafely delivered of a Princeſs) danced ſeveral Dances in the Senators Hall, where their Majeſties, as well as the Nobility of both Sexes, appeared in maſquerade Dreſſes, but with their Faces uncovered, and did not retire till paſt Midnight. —— There has been a Feaſt at Court alſo for the three laſt Days ſucceſſively, which coſt above 100,000 Florins, on account of the Duke of Lorain's Marriage to the eldeſt Archdutcheſs. —— The Marquis de Monti will ſet out the 11th Inſtant from Thorn for France. —— The Sieur Waſinski, who has been ſeven Years under Arreſt, has leaped out of a Window, and made his Eſcape. —— The King has been ſo good as to releaſe all thoſe who were confined both in Poland and Saxony for their Adherence to his Competitor. And of all the Saxon Troops that were in Poland, there remain now only the King's Life Guard, and four Regiments, but, for ſome Days paſt the Guards of the Palace have been doubled, and Troops poſted at all the Avenues, a Troop of Horſe has patroled every Night, and Orders have been ſent to two Ruſſian Regiments to draw near this City; upon which an uncertain Rumor is ſpread, that a Conſpiracy has been diſcovered. Be this as it will, the Primate of the Kingdom, who is ſo ill of the Gravel at his Palace of Lowitz, that the King ordered his chief Phyſician to attend him, is ſent for to Court, and a Horſe-litter is diſpatched to bring him. —— Major General Biſmark came hither t'other Day, with 100 Coſſacks well mounted and new cloathed, whom he has inſtructed ſo well in the Diſcipline of the regular Troops, that they diſcharge their Piſtols and Carabines as cleverly as the common Horſe.

Vienna, Feb. 7. O. S. 'Tis affirmed that the Duke and Dutcheſs of Lorain will reſide next Summer at the Caſtle of Schonbron, or Belleſontaine. The Emperor made a Promotion of 100 Gentlemen of the Privy Chamber, on account of the Marriage, whoſe Names will ſoon appear in Print. Two Days before the Ceremony the Baron de Jacquemin, who is the Duke of Lorain's Envoy Extraordinary at this Court, went to the Dutch Envoy Extraordinary, Mynheer Bruyninx, and declared to him, 'That the Duke his Maſter, in 'order to ſhew how much he valued the Friendſhip of 'their High Mightineſſes, and to convince them of his 'perfect Eſteem and Regard for their Republick, had 'charged him to give him Notice of the intended Ce'lebration of that Prince's Nuptials, that his Excel'lency might inform their High Mightineſſes of it; 'and that he hoped they would bear a Part in his Joy 'and Satisfaction; that, for his own Share, he ſhould 'ſeek every Opportunity to convince their High 'Mightineſſes of his ſincere Regard for the Proſperity 'of their State; and that as ſoon as the Marriage was 'celebrated, he would not fail to notify it to their High 'Mightineſſes in a proper Manner.'

The Duke's own Picture, which, among other rich Preſents, he gave to the Dutcheſs, inſtead of Glaſs or Chryſtal, is covered with an even, ſmooth Diamond, of the Bigneſs of a Pigeon's Egg, which was purchaſed in England, and is looked upon here as a prodigious Curioſity. —— The Act which the Pope's Nuncio cauſed to be read at the Celebration of the Marriage, was not a Diſpenſation, but the Brief by which the Pope authorized the Nuncio to perform the Ceremony, and to give the Benediction. —— The Court has Advice by a Courier from Conſtantinople, that on the 3d of January laſt O. S. Mehemet Baſhaw, who was Kaimacan, or Governor of that City, and who had officiated in the room of the late Vizier, ever ſince his being depoſed, was, by the Grand Seignior, declared Grand Vizier.

Heidelberg, Feb. 14. O. S. The French Officers belonging to the Train of Artillery at Philipsburg, were to march out as Yeſterday, to make Room for the Imperial Engineers and Officers that were there before the Surrender of that Fortreſs. —— The Emperor has remitted to the Cheſt of the Empire, a conſiderable Sum for his Quota of the 60 Roman Months granted by the Dyet; and the King of Great Britain has done the ſame in Quality of Elector of Hanover, for his Dominions in Germany.

Rome, Jan. 31. O. S. Tueſday laſt the Corſini Family gave a grand Ball here, at which one would have thought the whole City had been preſent, there having not been a more ſplendid, or a more crouded Entertainment of the Kind here in the Memory of Man; and who ſhould open the Ball but the young Chevalier de St. George, who danced with the Princeſs Octavia Corſini. His Father was there too, and his younger Brother, as were alſo all the foreign Miniſters.

The Pope is very thoughtful how he ſhall regain the Good-Will of the Emperor, and has cauſed his Imperial Majeſty's Arms to be put up at ſeveral Places from whence they had been taken down.

Florence, Jan. 31. O. S. 'Tis ſaid the French, Spaniſh and German Generals, in the Conferences at Fiorenzuola, have agreed, that the Germans ſhall not ſet a Foot in Tuſcany; but that they ſhall be at Liberty to extend their Quarters into the Land of the Church as far as Sinigaglia and Jeſi, as alſo into the Dutchy of Urbino; but not towards the Sea Coaſt; and that if they ſtir a Step farther towards the Tronto, it ſhall be taken as a Breach of the Armiſtice; and that, in the mean time, there ſhall be a free Correſpondence and Intercourſe without Paſſports. —— Several Couriers from Spain are gone thro' this City for Rome and Naples, who all agree, that the King has conſented to the Preliminaries. Mean time the Spaniſh Commiſſaries are hiring all the Ships they can at Leghorn, to carry home their Artillery and Ammunition.

Naples, Jan. 27. O. S. The Infante King Don Carlos does not ſpend all his Time in Hunting; but generally devotes his Mornings to more ſerious Amuſements, ſuch as the Reading of Hiſtory; and he has tranſlated out of French into Latin, Part of the Abridgment of Univerſal Hiſtory, written by the late M. du l'Iſle, Geographer and Cenſor Royal in France; which Tranſlation he has dedicated to the Queen his Mother, and ſent it her, pompouſly bound, for a Preſent. —— Two Dutch Veſſels are arrived here with 306 Cheſts and Bales, containing the Furniture taken out of the Palaces of Parma and Placenza. The King very ſoon expects a ſtately Coach and 14 very fine Horſes, as a Preſent from his Grandmother, Dorothy the Dutcheſs Dowager of Parma.

Genoa, Jan. 31. O. S. Sunday laſt the Grand Council met and unanimouſly choſe Seignior Nicolas Cataneo, Doge of this Republick, in the room of Seignior Durazzo, whoſe Time is expired. Felix Pinelli, the late Governor of Corſica, who gave ſuch Diſguſt to the Iſlanders, is return'd hither.

Liſbon, Jan. 13. O. S. Laſt Night a Fire happen'd in the Palace of Don Diego Mendoza, Secretary of State, which burnt very furiouſly; and 'tis apprehended, that beſides the Furniture, ſome Papers of Conſequence are deſtroy'd.

Hague, Feb. 20. O. S. 'If the Inſinuations in many 'Letters, both from Italy and Germany were of any 'Credit, the Concluſion of the Peace would be ſtill 'very doubtful, and one might expect to ſee all the 'Armies in the Field again by next Spring. The 'Duke de Montemar, ſay thoſe Writers, expects freſh 'Reinforcements from Spain, in Tuſcany: The Mar'ſhal de Noailles will have the French Officers keep 'their Equipages, nor muſt a Grain of Ammunition 'be parted with out of the Magazines: The Germans 'are reinforcing every Day in Lombardy: The King 'of Sardinia is recruiting all his Forces: The Court 'of France continues to raiſe the Tenth Penny and 'the other Taxes: Both the German and French 'Troops are in perpetual Motion upon the Upper 'Rhine, where 'tis ſuppoſed there will be Camps, as 'well as on the Maeſe, in Bohemia, in Saxony, in 'Bavaria, in Pruſſia, &c. What does all this ſignify? 'Juſt nothing at all. Does not State-Policy demand, 'that till all general Intereſts are regulated and ſettled

'on

'on a ſure Footing by a ſolemn Treaty, every Power 'ſhould be prepared for every Event? Thoſe Novel-'liſts therefore are quite in the Wrong, to infer from 'ſuch Preparations that the Peace is ſtill uncertain.'

Berlin, Feb. 14. O. S. On Wedneſday laſt General Gir k:l, Miniſter from the States General, was called to a Conference with the Pruſſian Miniſters, where they told him, that the King their Maſter had, immediately after reading the Memorial he delivered to them the Monday before, ſent an Expreſs to Wezel, with Orders to releaſe the Man he had complained was liſted there, and to put under Arreſt, as ſoon as he ſhould be found out, the Officer who had committed that Violence, in order to his being puniſhed with the utmoſt Severity. It is rumored here, that King Staniſlaus was to leave Koningsberg on the 20th or 21ſt Inſtant, on his Return to France, and that he would paſs thro' Sileſia, and not thro' this Place, as it was reported ſome Time ago.

LONDON.

Laſt Saturday General Sutton ſet out for London, from his Seat in the County of Nottingham; but before he had come five Miles from home, the Waters were ſo much out, that he was obliged to return back.

Yeſterday Morning about one o'Clock the Oxford Mail was robbed by a Foot Pad in Holborn, who cut off the Portmantua, and run with it down Holborn, where he was ſtopped by the Watch, who examined where he was going, but not giving a ſatisfactory Anſwer, the Watchman laid hold of him to carry him to the Watch-houſe, and the Poſt-boy coming up at the ſame time, the Fellow threw down the Portmantua, and made his Eſcape; but the Letters, &c. were all ſafe, and were carried by the Conſtable to the Poſt-houſe.

On Saturday laſt the Rev. Mr. Stockton, Fellow of Trinity-hall, Cambridge, was appointed Chaplain in Ordinary to the Prince of Wales.

Yeſterday died in Newgate Campbell the Lawyer, one of the four Criminals condemned with Wreathock the Attorney, and who ſince received his Majeſty's Pardon for Tranſportation for Life.

Motto to LAYER's Scheme.

Advertiſement concerning this Book.

This Maſterpiece of religious Policy was publiſhed, many Years ſince, in Latin, French, and Dutch: Mr. John Schipper, a Bookſeller at Amſterdam, bought one of them at Antwerp, among other Books, and afterwards reprinted it. The Jeſuits, being informed that he had purchaſed this Book, demanded it back from him; but he had then ſent it to Holland. One of the Society, who lived at Amſterdam, hearing it ſaid, ſoon after, to a Catholick Bookſeller, by Name Van Eyke, that Schipper was printing a Book which concerned the Jeſuits; replied, that if it was only The Rules of the Society, he ſhould not be under any Concern; but deſired he would inform himſelf what it was. Being told by the Bookſeller, that it was The Secret Inſtructions of the Society, the good Father, ſhrugging up his Shoulders, and knitting his Brow, ſaid, that he ſaw no other Remedy but denying that this Piece came from the Society. The Reverend Fathers however thought it more adviſeable to purchaſe the whole Edition, which they ſoon after did, ſome few Copies excepted; from one of theſe it was afterwards reprinted, with this Account prefixed; which is there ſaid to be taken from two Roman Catholicks, Men of Credit.
